Navy Secretary Tells of Teredo's Havoc at Mare Island.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—President Harding asked Congress to-day to include in the Navy bill for next year a supplement appropriation of $2,450,000 for use in counteracting damage caused by the teredo, a wood gnawing worm, at Mare Island Navy Yard, Callfornia.

fornia.

The fund is needed, Secretary Denbyreported to the president, for rebuilding walls and quay walls and the maintenance of dikes and dredging. When the original estimate of $350,000 was the original estimate of $350,000 was presented it was thought the amount would be ample, the Secretary said, to offset damage to water front structures by the teredo, but recent reports indicated that the damage was progressing far greater than estimated. If not arrested and damaged structures repaired, the Secretary said, the teredo would do damage enough to make rebuilding necessary at costs far exceeding the amounts now required.

Bosron, March 9 .- The Coast Guard cutter seneca, in the service of the international lee Patrol, reported to-day that the field ice in the vicinity of the Grand Banks was the heaviest since the patrol was instituted nine years ago. Northerly limit of the ice is reported as latitude 44:20, longitude 49:50. It extends south in two large fields, miles long,
